This is a poker game played where the player gets 5 cards and the house gets six cards. The game dealt from a standard 52 card deck.

There are 5 OR 6 player options in this game.

There are 3 bets .

The Big Slick bet , recommended a 1 $ minimum, however it may be table minimum .

A bonus bet this may be either a 1$ minimum or the table minimum. The table minimum is recommended.

The play bet this is the table minimum .

The house may decide if they will allow the Bonus ,or Big Slick bet to be played without the play bet . The house may allow more to be bet on the bonus ,or big slick bet than the play bet, and how much (2 x,3x, etc.). The House may also have a lower limit on the Bonus ,and or Big Slick than the play bet.

Dealing Big Slick Stud

To start the game the house deals each player 5 cards 4 down and one up . If dealt out of a shoe the house may elect to give the first player all 5 of their cards before proceeding to the next player . Or the house may deal one card to each player then one to the house and repeat until all players have 5 cards. If the latter is chosen the house will get two consecutive cards at the end of the deal. When dealing one card at a time the players 5TH card is face up as is the house's 6TH card.

When dealing all five cards at once the first card out becomes the up card. Subsequent cards are tucked under the first card as they are pulled out of the shoe.

When dealt by machine the top card is the up card. The house will take their 5 cards and then the next top card off the next set of 5 from the machine. All hands are dealt from the dealers left to right .

THE BIG SLICK BET

The first bet is the big slick bet an optional bet that the dealers up card and players up card will make one of the following hands.

Ace King Suited

Pair of ACES

Pair of KINGS

ACE KING unsuited

Any other pair

Starting at the dealers right , all big slick bets will be paid or taken . The players will then look at their cards to see if they want to play their play bet or surrender their bet and be finished with the hand. Players will tuck all 5 cards under their play bet if they wish to play the hand.

If they wish to surrender they will place their cards in front of their hand (closest to the dealer) face down . Anytime a player surrenders their play bet they also lose their bonus bet, and the -1 bonus for two pair on the play bet.

The Bonus and Play bets

The house always qualifies one hand at a time they will turn over each players hand starting from third base. (dealers right) .First to be acted on is the Play bet if the player beats the house with less than 2 pair they win even money. If the player has two pair or better and beats the house they will win even money plus a 1-1 bonus. If the house hand beats the player ,and the player has two pair or better they will lose their hand but still get the 1-1 bonus. The net effect being a push. If the hands are a 5 card tie. The player wins 3-1 plus 1$ (the big slick lucky buck) A flush and 5 cards of equal value unsuited do not push.

After the play bet the dealer will take & pay the bonus bet before moving on to the next player. The bonus wins off the bonus pay table .The house hand has no effect on the players bonus.

The house may set the maximum aggregate limit at what ever amount they desire within WSGC rules.

Players may not side bet on another players hand. Players may not bet on the house hand. Betting on the big slick bet does not constitute betting on the house hand. Players may not show their hand or discuss their hand with other players. Any irregularities , such as a misdeal are to be handled by the house's standard procedures for such occurrences .The house procedure must comply with WSGC rules.

The following pay tables are available for this game .

THEPLAYBET

Play bet pay table one . Pays even money unless the player has 2 pair or better. Two pair or better pays a bonus equal to the original bet regardless of win or loss on the hand.

PLAY BET PAY TABLE 2

Pay table two pays even money if the player wins an is a loss if they don't regardless of the hand .

In both pay tables the player has the option to surrender their hand and lose half the play bet before the house cards are turned over.

Table one Play bet house edge.

House edge 5.5535% if the player has two pair or better they win a bonus of 1-1 on their play bet A player with 2 pair against a house 3 of a kind would lose their play bet but win the 1-1 bonus for a net result of a push . A player with 2 pair vs. an inferior house hand will win 1-1 on the hand plus the 1-1 bonus for a net result of a 2$ win for each dollar bet.

The big slick bet, and bonus bet have the following pay tables.
