

BLACKJACK TIE

TO PLAY:

1. Place your mandatory blackjack wager along with any desired bonus wagers.
2. Each player receives two cards each face up, and the dealer will receive two cards with his 2nd card face down.
3. Players play their hand by hitting or standing as in conventional blackjack.
4. All house rules regarding blackjack apply.
5. The house may use 6 or 8 deck shoe.
6. The house may also use any aggregate they so choose.
7. The bets for the bonuses allow for wagering on the left side (LS, 17, 18, 19) and wagering on the right side, (RS, 20, 21, Blackjack) if the bet is LS it does include all three numbers, and pays according to the pay scale. If it is straight up on 17, 18, 19 it pays according to the pay scale. If the bet is RS it does include all three numbers, and pays according to the pay scale. If it is straight up on 20, 21, Blackjack it pays according to the pay scale. A player must bet on the primary wager and may bet on any bonuses.

GAME RULES:

1. The mandatory blackjack wager wins even money if a player's hand is closer to 21 than the dealer's. The blackjack wager wins according to casino house rules if the player has a natural blackjack (two cards consisting of a face card or 10 value card with an Ace).
2. If the player made a bonus wager, and the dealers hand ties the players hand exactly, (examples; player 17 vs. dealer 17, player 21 vs. dealer 21, or player Blackjack vs. dealer Blackjack, the player wins the total of that bonus (See payable below) and pushes the mandatory wager.
3. The player may make more than one bonus wager per hand. Example: The Player made two bonus wagers on 18 and 21 and the dealer tied the player on 18. The player would win 55 to 1 on the Tie 18 bonus wager and lose the other bonus wager.
4. Left Side (LS) and Right Side (RS) bonus wagers win ONLY if the player and dealer have a respective matching hand or exact tie. Example: If the dealer makes 17 and the player makes 18 with a bonus wager on LS then the player loses the LS wager. For LS and RS bets to win the player MUST tie the dealer's hand with one of the three hand totals applicable to that wager.
5. The player may only wager a total of all bonus wagers not to exceed the total of the mandatory blackjack wager. Example: If $10 is bet on the mandatory wager, only a total of $5 may be wagered on each side, straight up or LS and RS. This means half of the mandatory bet may be bet on the left side and half on the right side.
6. When splitting aces, only the 1st hand is used for the bonus wager and this is considered 21, and NOT BLACKJACK in the event a ten value card is drawn.
7. When a player has a Blackjack and the dealer does not, all bonus wagers lose immediately.
8. When splitting any pair only the first hand is used to determine the tie wager, if the player splits more than once all bonuses are lost.
9. Players have a Blackjack ONLY when the player's first two cards consist of a ten value card plus an ace. 21 occurs with three cards or more, or when splitting aces and receiving a ten value card with the first ace. 21 Value hands do not tie with Blackjack hands, resulting in losing bonus wagers.

10. “Washington commercial card room operators must comply with the wagering requirements of WAC 230-15-040 (1) (b).”
11. The layout for Blackjack Tie should state that players are limited to wagering on only four separate games.
