

Something 's Wild Poker

Rev.041 10I2004

Something's Wild is a five card poker game that the player wagers against the house and introduces the addition of a random wild card. Each player and the house will receive two cards dealt face down. There will be three community cards placed in the center that will be shared by all hands. A perpendicular fourth card will be placed to the side of the two house cards to demonstrate the wild card. This fourth card may not be used as a community card; it is just to demonstrate which card is the applicable wild card. Any other card in the original two players' cards or the three community cards of the same denomination as the wild card may be used as a "Wild Card". A "Wild Card(s)" may represent or duplicate any card in a normal 52 card poker deck. If a hand contains multiple "Wild Card(s)" each card may independently represent any card that jointly creates the strongest poker hand. The layout will consist of 7 betting spots consisting of an "Ante" and "In" wager. An additional optional "Wild" bet is also available. A player must wager an "Ante" bet. Each player and the dealer will receive their two cards dealt face down in a clockwise manner from the first position to the left of the dealer. After each player has received their first two cards the dealer will take the next two cards placing both face down on the layout then place the next top card in the "Wild" card position and the other card in the left most community card position. The dealer will then take the next two cards and place the top card in the middle community card position and the bottom card in the right most community card position. (These three cards will create the community cards.) The dealer will then take the two left most community cards and turn them face up. The players will then choose to play the hand by placing a bet equal to their "Ante" in the "In" spot, or choose not to play and forfeit their "Ante". The "Wild" bet will remain regardless if they forfeit or not. The dealer will then expose the last community card and show the house hand then show the "Wild Card". If the house hand qualifies with an Ace-King or better and the player's hand using wild cards has a greater poker value than the house hand the player will win even money on the "Ante" wager and "In" wager according to the standard pay table. If a player's hand using wild cards has lesser poker value than the house hand they lose their "Ante" and "In" wager. If the house hand qualifies and the house hand and the player's hand has an equal poker value the hand will receive a push and neither the "Ante" or the "In" will be affected. In the event of a push the "In" wager will not receive odds based upon the pay table. If the house hand does not qualify with an Ace-King or better the Ante will automatically win and the "In" bet is not affected. If player's hand does not meet the minimum requirement on the "Wild" pay table the "Wild" bet will lose. The dealer will pay or take accordingly from right to left based on the pay table. The "Wild" bet will receive odds based on the "Wild pay table.

1. All players must place an "Ante" to participate in a round of play.
2. The "Wild" bet is an optional bet that is not required to play the hand.
3. Two cards will be delivered to each wagering player from the dealer's left to right in a clockwise manner ending with the dealer receiving the last two cards.

4. After all hands are delivered the dealer will take the next two cards and place them in front of the dealer and place the top card perpendicular and to the dealer's right of the dealer's two cards. The bottom card will be placed in the left most community card position.
5. The next top card will be placed in the center community card position and the last card to the right most community card position.
6. The left most and center community cards will be exposed immediately by the dealer.
7. Players must choose to be "In" or fold and forfeit their "Ante"; if a player chooses to stay in and play the hand they must place a bet equal to their "Ante" bet in the "In" betting position. The players will then be instructed to place their cards face down behind the bets.
8. If a player chooses to not play the hand they will be instructed to place their cards face down in front of the bets. The dealer will then collect their "Ante" and if they do not have a "Wild" bet discard their cards.
9. If a player plays the optional "Wild" bet, and they choose to forfeit the "Ante" bet their "Wild" bet will remain until an outcome has been determined. Cards will be placed horizontally face down in to the right of the "Wild" bet.
10. once all players have made a decision on whether they are "In" or not. The dealer will expose the third community card and the house cards. After the community cards and house cards have been exposed the "Wild" example card will be exposed.
11. The dealer will take the cards and expose them to the right of the "Wild" bet and pay or take from right to left in a clockwise fashion in order from the "In" bet to the "Wild" bet and discarding the cards after paying or taking.
12. The dealer will then use the "Wild" example card to sweep up the house hand and community cards. Ensuring the cards remain in order so the hand may be recreated if necessary.
13. In the event of a malfunction or mistake the hand will be called dead and all bets will remain.
14. Each player may play a maximum of two hands. Any multiple hands must be played adjacent to each other.
15. If a player chooses to play two hands they must wager double the table minimum on both "Antes" including any "Wild" bets.
16. The game must be dealt using a poker dealing machine. At not time may the game be dealt by hand.
17. Sharing of information between players is prohibited regarding their individual hands.
18. Floor supervisor's decision is final
