Representatives and Gambling Managers
Applicants and Licensees

Representatives:
If you want to work for a gambling manufacturer, distributor or service supplier you must apply for, and receive a representative license from us before you begin working (WAC 230-03-300, WAC 230-03-305, WAC 230-03-310).

Gambling Managers:
• If you want to work as a gambling manager for a commercial business (WAC 230-03-250) or charitable organization (WAC 230-03-235), you need to apply for a manager’s license.
• You may begin working as soon as your completed application and fees are delivered to our headquarters office or dropped in the mail.
• However, you cannot begin working if you meet any of the conditions listed in RCW 9.46.158

Fingerprints
• You must submit a fingerprint card with your application for a license, if you are applying for a:
  o Representative license; or o Manager license, but only if you have lived outside Washington State within the last ten years.
• Fingerprinting is available at our Lacey office. For details, call us or visit our website at: www.wsgc.wa.gov/fingerprinting.pdf
• Fingerprinting services may also be available at your local police department.

Applying for a license
• Fill out an application for a new license: www.wsgc.wa.gov/forms/individuals.asp
• Licensing fees must be paid by cash, check, or money order in the exact amount owed. Credit/debit cards are not accepted.
• Give your completed application, fingerprint card, proof of I.D., and application fee to your employer, who will sign your application and send it all to us.

Receiving your license
• If you qualify for a license, it will be mailed to your employer who will give you a copy.
• If the information on your license is not correct, let us know right away.

Renewing your license
• Your license expires after one year.
• You are responsible to make sure you have a valid license, if you are working gambling activities.
• You will receive a renewal notice and application 45 days before your license expires. This is sent to the last address we have on file for you, so if you move, remember to let us know.
• Return your renewal application and license fees as soon as possible, or at least 15 days before your license expires.
• If your license expires, you must stop working until your new license is issued.
• If you send us your renewal application too late, you may be required to submit an application for a new license, a fingerprint card, proof of I.D. and fees for a new license. Fees for a new license are higher than renewal fees. So, it pays to renew on time.

Working for multiple employers
• Representatives must work for only one employer; however, manufacturer representatives may work for multiple employers.
• Gambling managers must work for only one employer; however, some charitable managers may work for multiple employers. Call us for details.
Changing employers

- Representatives who want to change employers must complete a transfer application and pay a fee. Your new license must be issued before you begin working for your new employer.

- Gambling managers who want to change employers must complete the change of employer section on a new application and pay a fee. Your new license must be issued before you begin working for your new employer.

Rules and laws

- You must follow all gambling laws (RCW 9.46) and rules (WAC 230), which are posted on our website.

- If you need an explanation of requirements, contact your local gambling agent.

- If you break a rule or law, you may lose your license.
