Re: Flappy Bird Amusement Game

Dear Mr. Treankler,

Thank you for submitting the Flappy Bird amusement game to us for review. In the information submitted, it was noted that the software has been modified for Washington State. Specifically, the auto adjust feature that allowed the difficulty level to automatically adjust has been disabled in Washington.

It is my understanding the game plays as follows:

This game is based on the Flappy Bird App. Players press the button to move the bird up and down through the pipes. The player receives tickets as the bird moves through pipes. If the player is able to successfully get past a specific number of pipes (10, 20, 35, 50, etc.) they receive bonus tickets.

The Flappy Bird game meets the definition of an amusement game (RCW 9.46.0201) and is approved for use as a Group 5 Hand/Eye Coordination (WAC 230-13-035) amusement game in Washington State.

Please be advised that any modifications to the Flappy Bird amusement game software or associated equipment must be provided to us for additional testing and review. In addition, amusement games operated in Washington must not have settings that allow the operator to control the outcome of the game (auto percentaging). The approval of this equipment may be rescinded at any time if problems are found by the Commission or changes to the Washington Administrative Code (WAC) impact this approval. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Sonja Dolson at (253) 671-6283.

Sincerely,

Downloaded over 50 million times, the Flappy Bird app is now larger than life!

Bay Tek's licensed Flappy Bird ticket redemption game is sure to draw attention with the large, bright screen and a game play that will have players flocking back for more.

Simply press the large red button to skillfully maneuver the bird through the openings in the pipes, scoring tickets for each pair passed through. Hitting one of the pipes or the ground ends the game. Players can compete for daily or all-time high scores.

The recognizable Flappy Bird artwork, 42" monitor and colorful lighting will sure be a great addition to any game room.
