Re: Up & Away Amusement Game

Dear Mr. Berger,

Thank you for submitting the Up & Away amusement game, manufactured by Universal Space, to us for review. We have completed our review.

It is my understanding the game plays as follows:

Players use the air blaster gun to blow and guide the balls into one of four targets. Each time a ball drops into the target, that player's animal character moves up the game. The first player to get all four balls into the targets wins the bonus. If only one player is playing, they win the jackpot if they get all four balls into the targets before time runs out. Tickets are awarded based on the score at the end of the game.

The Up & Away amusement game meets the definition of an amusement game (RCW 9.46.0201) and is approved for use as a Group 5 Hand/Eye Coordination (WAC 230-13-035) amusement game in Washington State.

Please be advised that any modifications to the Up & Away amusement game software or associated equipment must be provided to us for additional testing and review. In addition, amusement games operated in Washington must not have settings that allow the operator to control the outcome of the game (auto percentaging). The approval of this equipment may be rescinded at any time if problems are found by the Commission or changes to the Washington Administrative Code (WAC) impact this approval. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact Sonja Dolson at (425) 277-7026.

Sincerely,

Josh Stueckle
